French Project – Une bouteille dans la mer de Gaza

Reflecting on my progress in the French novel study projet based on the book Une bouteille dans la mer de Gaza, I found that I have developed new skills towards thinking, and self-reflection.

I found myself completely lost in the beginning, only to realize that I was able to guide myself through and think of an idea. This project was one of the first times I have directly applied my combined skills from two classes, and I was able to innovate for a project that tested my skills, not only for one class, but two classes, in IT and French 10.

I was pushed to develop my thinking skills when I did not know what to do. I found that I used my creative thinking skills to further develop my project. By learning to use a graphics program, Adobe Illustrator CC 2015, I integrated my skills and used a similar program, Vectr to design and create my French project, a digitally-made timeline.

This project not only tested my new skills, but also forced me to creatively think of how certain graphics had to be included, and learn to adapt to the digital environment.
