#Creative Thinking

For my spoken word project for english 10, I demonstrated critical thinking as part of my growth. In order to get inspiration for my spoken word, I talked to one of my friends about ideas. I was originally thinking to do a performance about the brain and the limitless things it can grant for any vertebrae. But upon further research and discussion I was sure that my idea wouldn't work. The reason being that it was too little of a topic and had no meaning to educate and raise awareness to others. It seemed to have no in depth meaning to make others think. So with some critical thinking skills that I had acquired I changed it to relate to my previous topic that I was passionate about. In the end I reached a better topic for my spoken word by Revising my topic for my spoken word.
