

The Institute

By Kiara, Emma, Tanesha, Valeria and Adam.

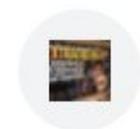

Red Rising

By Pierce Brown

Theme park project

English 11

The Institute...

Where is the theme park "The Institute" located?

Map of the park

h red black green
 o pink brown blue
 u orange copper silver
 s purple white gold
 e gray yellow s colour bases

bathrooms restaurants park gift shop ticket booth park rides
 first aid / nurse
 1 entrance / exit
 parking
 shows (check times)
 2 help centre / house sorting firework show merchandise tent

THE INSTITUTE

- a : mines rollercoaster
- b : water ride
- c : joust show
- d : Eo's garden (food court)
- e : lazer tag
- f : flying proctors / fight show
- g : final character parade

🔍 What are some rides and shows at The Institute? 🗣️

Helldiver

This exciting roller coaster will take you on an adventure through the mines of Mars! Become a Helldiver and explore the dangers of the mines while traveling through the tracks.

It is a mine themed rollercoaster, it goes through the mines of Mars, and you can see robotic animals such as Pit-vipers.

Helldiver

The Battle of The Houses

Grab a sword (Laser tag) and choose your house. In this exciting game/ride, you get to battle against other house members and find out which house will come out on top!

The area the game is played is designed to be similar to the institution/playing field. You can join your own house or play between your family.

The Battle of The Houses

Flying with the Proctors

Become a proctor and watch the houses fight below you. On the ride/show, you get to travel on a cloud like cart as it takes you over the field where the game takes place. Choose a house and cheer them on from Olympus!

Live actors are performing in the field under the cloud shaped carts, and you have the ability to control your own cart to be able to travel anywhere.

Flying with the Proctors

The Golden Arc

This interesting show/ride lets you see first hand how Darrow turned into a gold. Travel on a boat as visual graphics and live actors create a montage of his experience.

This ride/show is on a boat and surrounded by visual graphics. It is similar to a movie and some parts involve live actors who act out specific scenes.

The Golden Arc

The Battle of Death

The Battle of Death is a show that is about the fight between Julian and Darrow, but instead of it being like it was in the book, it has been changed into a joust. You are able to sit in an arena and watch as Darrow and Julian battle it out on horses that are decorated in gold.

This arena is near Eo's garden and there are places to get food inside the arena as well.

The Battle of Death

Eo's Firework show

Eo's Firework show is basically a firework show that takes place beside Eo's garden. You get to see magical colours that represent the colour system, as well as the symbols for the houses and colours made out of fireworks.

You'll know the shows beginning when you hear an announcer declare Darrow as the winner of the trial.

Eo's Firework show

The Red Parade

This Red Parade is two different parades. The first parade is a mini parade that as all the main characters that you know and love on floats. This parade goes around Eo's garden for a bit around lunchtime. The second parade is the bigger parade, with all the characters that we read about in the book on floats, as well as music being played by bands. This parade takes place before the firework show at night and the parade starts from the Gold section, goes all the way around Eo's garden and ends in the Red section.

The Red parade

Helldiver

This exciting roller coaster will take you on an adventure through the mines of Mars! Become a Helldiver and explore the dangers of the mines while traveling through the tracks.

It is a mine themed rollercoaster, it goes through the mines of Mars, and you can see robotic animals such as Pit-vipers.

The Battle of The Houses

Grab a sword (Laser tag!) and choose your house. In this exciting game/ride, you get to battle against other house members and find out which house will come out on top!

The area the game is played is designed to be similar to the institution/playing field. You can join your own house or play between your family.

Flying with the Proctors

Become a proctor and watch the houses fight below you. On this ride/show, you get to travel on a cloud like cart as it takes you over the field where the game takes place. Choose a house and cheer them on from Olympus!

Live actors are performing in the field under the cloud shaped carts , and you have the ability to control your own cart to be able to travel anywhere.

The Golden Arc

This interesting show/ride lets you see first hand how Darrow turned into a gold. Travel on a boat as visual graphics and live actors create a montage of his experience.

This ride/show is on a boat and surrounded by visual graphics. It is similar to a movie and some parts involve live actors who act out specific scenes.

The Battle of Death

The Battle of Death is a show that is about the fight between Julian and Darrow, but instead of it being like it was in the book, it has been changed into a joust. You are able to sit in an arena and watch as Darrow and Julian battle it out on horses that are decorated in gold.

This arena is near Eo's garden and there are places to get food inside the arena as well.

Eo's Firework show

Eo's Firework show is basically a firework show that takes place beside Eo's garden. You get to see magical colours that represent the colour system, as well as the symbols for the houses and colours made out of fireworks.

You'll know the shows beginning when you hear an announcer declare Darrow as the winner of the trial.

The Red Parade

This Red Parade is two different parades. The first parade is a mini parade that has all the main characters that you know and love on floats. This parade goes around Eo's garden for a bit around lunchtime. The second parade is the bigger parade, with all the characters that we read about in the book on floats, as well as music being played by bands. This parade takes place before the firework show at night and the parade starts from the Gold section, goes all the way around Eo's garden and ends in the Red section.

You can type something here...

What is some merchandise you can get from The Institute?

Colour system clothes

Merchandise that you can get from The Institute is, clothes that are designed to go with the colour system. The comfy clothing have a cool design on them of the symbol that stands for that colour, you can also get hats and even keychains with those symbols. Most clothing items range from around $25 - $70, while hats cost around $20, and keychains cost around $12.

You can also decide to do the colour sorting, were for the price of $150, you can get sorted into a colour system and get a hat, shirt, sweater, pants and keychain of your colour system.

Colour system clothes

Figurines

Have you ever wanted your own cool little Darrow to go along with your Red Rising collections, well don't you worry! The theme park, The Institute, has just the thing you want. At this theme park, there are merchandise stands where you can buy your own figurines of the characters. You can either buy a big figurine of the main characters or a tiny set of all the characters.

The big figurines of Darrow, Red and Gold, En, Mustang and more cost around $11, while the set of all the characters cost around $26.

Figurines

Red Rising board game

Have you ever wanted to play a board game about your favourite book well look no further, for The Institute has this game waiting just for you! At a station where you can get figurines, you can also get a board game to take home with you! This board game will make you feel like you are in Red Rising with all of your favourite characters.

You can get this wonderful board game for the price of $38, and then once you buy it the wonderful adventures are yours to enjoy!

Red Rising board game

Your House!

Have you ever wonder what House you would be in if you were in the trial in Red Rising, well worry no more, because at The Institute you can pay $160 for a sorting of your houses and get clothes, hats and keychains with that houses symbol on it, as well as an ID card which allows you to play on that house's team in laser tag.

Don't want to pay for the sorting, well don't worry you can still get clothes and hats and items with the houses symbols on it! Most clothing items range from around $25 - $70, while hats cost around $20, and keychains cost around $12. Sadly, though, for laser tag you'll be put on any team or with your family!

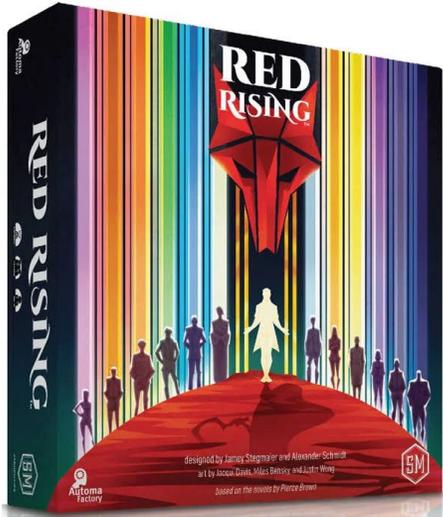

Your House!

Figurines

Have you ever wanted your own cool little Darrow to go along with your Red Rising collections, well don't you worry! The theme park, The Institute, has just the thing you want. At this theme park, there are merchandise stands where you can buy your own figurines of the characters. You can either buy a big figurine of the main characters or a tiny set of all the characters.

The big figurines of Darrow, Red and Gold, Eo, Mustang and more cost around $11, while the set of all the characters cost around $26.

Red Rising board game

Have you ever wanted to play a board game about your favourite book well look no further, for The Institute has this game waiting just for you! At a station where you can get figurines, you can also get a board game to take home with you! This board game will make you feel like you are in Red Rising with all of your favourite characters.

You can get this wonderful board game for the price of $38, and then once you buy it the wonderful adventures are yours to enjoy!

CERES

MARS

APOLLO

JUPITER

JUNO

DIANA

MINERVA

Your House!

Have you ever wonder what House you would be in if you were in the trial in Red Rising, well worry no more, because at The Institute you can pay $160 for a sorting of your houses and get clothes, hats and keychains with that house's symbol on it, as well as an ID card which allows you to play on that house's team in laser tag.

Don't want to pay for the sorting, well don't worry you can still get clothes and hats and items with the houses symbols on it! Most clothing items range from around $25 - $70, while hats cost around $20, and keychains cost around $12. Sadly, though, for laser tag you'll be put on any team or with your family!

You can type something here...

Who are some characters that you can see in The Institute?

Red Darrow

Darrow (Red): Darrow who is the protagonist/main character in our novel red rising has several traits which include physical traits and traits such as attitude and behaviour. These traits combined make up his personality and who he is. Red Darrow is a hellion who spends most of his precocious time digging so that the colour the reds can win the Laurel. He is extremely hard working and has a strong passion and drive for his job. He does not give up easily and is willing to sacrifice everything for the betterment of his colors. Emotionally he is very caring and has a big heart which can be seen throughout the story and the way he comes across when with his family and with Eo. Red Darrow is only a foot a which makes him physically quite a small man, but do not let this fool you as he is strong and has the mindset. Red Darrow lives in the part of the "Mustang" where the guests or visitors of the park are able to see him working and what type of job he does and all the dirtiest and scariest. He interacts well with the guests of the theme park, he is very kind and tries to show them around and what he does at his job. He tends to be a leader, so he shows them around and explains to them how everything works and he does and what he has to do. He is very important whenever he sees Eo at the Theme Park, he gets excited because she is his wife, and he loves her and has to be there for her and so that she and his family can live a good life. When he sees Gold Darrow, he feels overwhelmed and overwhelmed he feels like he is less important and that he wishes he were that strong. However, he enjoys being himself and not the changed Darrow Gold Darrow is.

Red Darrow

Eo

Eo is an essential character, she is the one that influenced Darrow to seek revenge and revolt because of the dream she told him she had while they were in the forbidden garden. Eo can come off as secretive sometimes, there may be moments where the reader can feel like she is hiding something from Darrow. She came across as idealistic and inspiring. She also portrays an amazing capacity for kindness and caring. Eo is left to live in the garden because this is where here and Darrow last spent quality time together, and this is where she revealed to him her dream that she had about him and asked him to fulfill it. The garden is forbidden to visit even though they are the ones who created it, and it is quite a beautiful environment with all the shade and colour. The garden and Eo have these things in common, when they both represent freedom and beauty. Eo interacted well with the guests of the Theme Park the garden is a safe place where she is able to show the people around and there is a parade around the garden. With her personality, she comes across as very friendly to the guests. She also interacts well with other characters such as Red Darrow who was and tactically still is her husband. Even though she passed away and is a ghost, their bond never to never broken or taken away from each other. She has not met any of the other characters because of her early passing in the story but all that matters is that Red Darrow is still with her.

Eo

Gold Darrow

Darrow (Gold) has incredible physical strength and speed since becoming a Gold. It's almost superhuman; he was able to hold his breath underwater for over eight minutes and could withstand an excessive amount of force without passing out or vomiting. His physical appearance also changed drastically with the transition from Red to Gold, along with his high bone density and powerful build. He was originally 5'4" as a Red and is now 7 feet tall as a Gold. Darrow lives in the "Turning into a Gold" attraction, where guests of the park can witness what the transition was like for him. Darrow, being a great leader and powerful man, tends to be a bit of a show-off with the guests of the park. He often enjoys intimidating the men by challenging them to an imaginary duel, as well as asking children if they're interested in forming an alliance with him. His interactions with other characters at the park are a bit similar. Whenever he sees Mustang, he displays his love and affection for her, but also leaves her to the point she'll send him away to escape his unflirty jokes. With Eo, he doesn't display that same love and affection because he's moved on, but he also is fully convinced that she's a ghost whenever he sees her. When Gold Darrow sees Red Darrow, he compares himself to him and boasts about how he's the improved version of him, but also secretly longs to feel the way he felt when he was once Red Darrow.

Gold Darrow

Mustang

Mustang is seen as a visionary, with great intelligence and great political skills. She is a very sociable person, which grants her the advantage of being able to make friends and allies very easily. However, she can also hold these traits in order to not display any weakness. Her radiating beauty also compliments her personality. She lives in the Laser Tag attraction, where she can be seen encouraging guests as they participate in the activity, playing against the different houses. Mustang behaviour around the park guests is exactly what you would expect, she's eager to meet and greet them as well as give them tips that'll give them the upper hand in their next "duel". Her interactions with other characters at the park are generally friendly. When she encounters Darrow, she sticks by him and lets him show her off, but she also likes to show that she is a very independent woman. She doesn't encounter Eo very often because she doesn't have any reason to spend her time by her attraction, but when they do meet, it's not much of an interaction. They don't know each other, so she doesn't really pay her any attention.

Mustang

Red Darrow

Darrow (Red): Darrow who is the protagonist/main character in our novel red rising has several traits which include physical traits and traits such as attitude and behaviour. These all combined make up his personality and who he is. Red Darrow is a Helldiver who spends most of his precious time digging so that his colony the reds can win the Laurel. He is extremely hard-working and has a strong passion and drive for his job. He does not give up easily and is willing to sacrifice everything for the betterment of his colony. Emotionally He is very caring and has a big heart which can be seen throughout the story and the way he comes across while with his family and wife Eo. Red Darrow is only 5 foot 4 which makes him physically quite a small man, but do not let this fool you as he is strong and has the mindset. Red Darrow lives in the part of the "Mine Ride" where the guests or visitors of the park are able to see him working and what type of job he does and all the dangers and sacrifices. He interacts well with the guests of the theme park, he is very kind and tries to show them around and what he does at his job. He tends to be a leader, so he shows them around and explains to them how everything works and what needs to be done and what tasks are most important. Whenever he sees Eo at the Theme Park, he gets excited because she is his wife, and he loves her and lives for her. Everything he does is for her and so that she and his family can live a good life. When he sees Gold Darrow, he feels underwhelmed and overpowered he feels like he is less important and that he wishes he were that strong; however, he enjoys being himself and not the changed Darrow Gold Darrow is.

Eo

Eo: Eo is an essential character, she is the one that influenced Darrow to seek revenge and revolt because of the dream she told him she had while they were in the forbidden garden. Eo can come off as secretive sometimes, there may be moments where the reader can feel like she is hiding something from Darrow. She came across as idealistic and inspiring. She also portrays an amazing capacity or kindness and caring. Eo is set to live in the garden because this is where here and Darrow last spent quality time together, and this is where she revealed to him her dream that she had about him and asked him to fulfill it. The garden is forbidden to reds even though they are the ones who created it, and it is quite a beautiful environment with all the nature and colours. The garden and Eo have these things in common, where they both represent freedom and beauty. Eo interacts well with the guests of the Theme Park the garden is a safe place where she is able to show the people around and there is a parade around the garden. With her personality, she comes across as very likeable by the guests. She also interacts well with the other characters such as Red Darrow who was and technically still is her husband. Even though she passed away and is a ghost, their bond/love is never broken or taken away from each other. She has not met any of the other characters because of her early passing in the story, but all that matters is that Red Darrow is still with her.

Gold Darrow

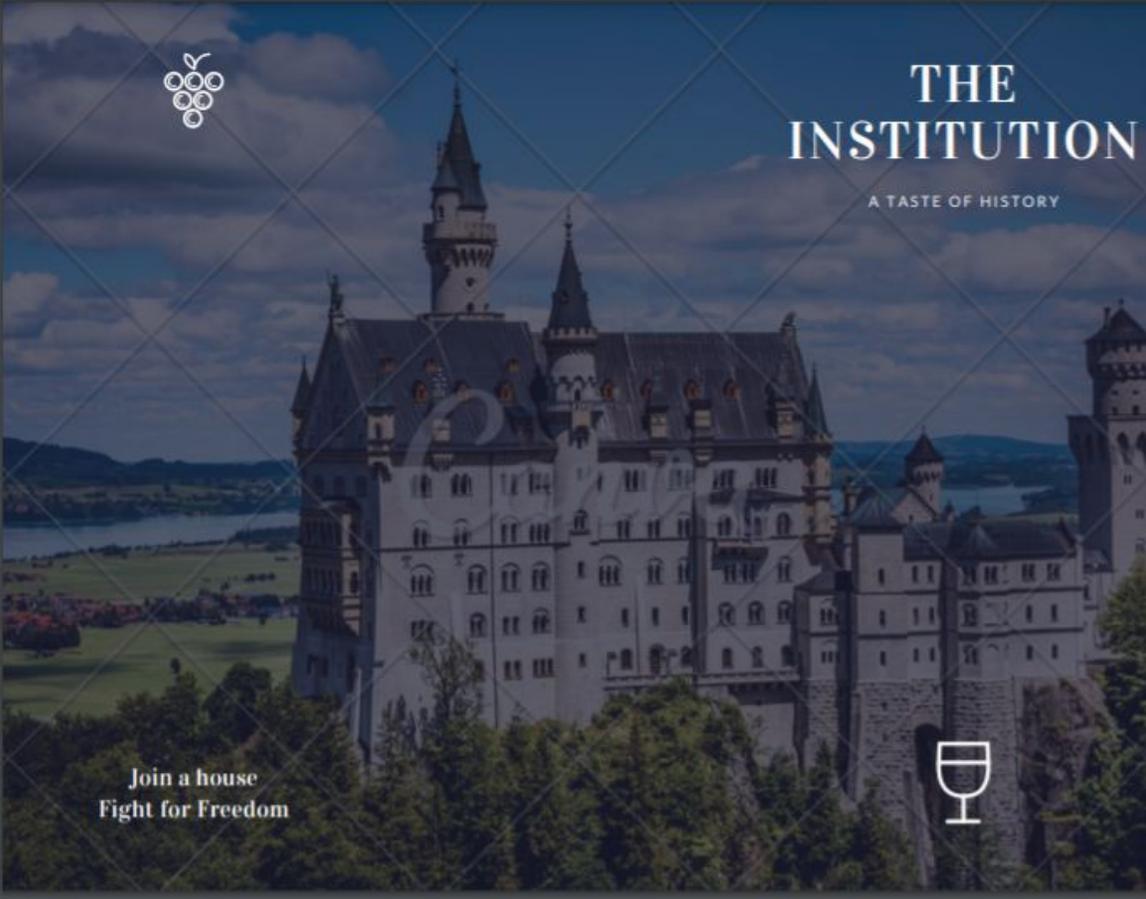

Darrow (Gold) has incredible physical strength and speed since becoming a Gold, it's almost superhuman; he was able to hold his breath underwater for over eight minutes and could withstand an excessive amount of force without passing out or vomiting. His physical appearance also changed drastically with the transition from Red to Gold, along with his high bone density and powerful build. He was originally 5'4" as a Red and is now 7 feet tall as a Gold. Darrow lives in the "Turning into a Gold" attraction, where guests of the park can witness what the transition was like for him. Darrow, being a great leader and powerful man, tends to be a bit of a show-off with the guests of the park. He often enjoys intimidating the men by challenging them to an imaginary duel, as well as asking children if they're interested in forming an alliance with him. His interactions with other characters at the park are a bit similar. Whenever he sees Mustang, he displays his love and affection for her, but also teases her to the point she'll send him away to escape his unfunny jokes. With Eo, he doesn't display that same love and affection because he's moved on, but he also is fully convinced that she's a ghost whenever he sees her. When Gold Darrow sees Red Darrow, he compares himself to him and boasts about how he's the improved version of him, but also secretly longs to feel the way he felt when he was once Red Darrow.

Mustang

Mustang is seen as a visionary, with great intelligence and great political skills. She is a very sociable person, which grants her the advantage of being able to make friends and allies very easily. However, she can also hide these traits in order to not display any weakness. Her radiating beauty also compliments her personality. She lives in the Laser Tag attraction, where she can be seen encouraging guests as they participate in the activity, playing against the different houses. Mustang's behaviour around the park guests is exactly what you would expect, she's eager to meet and greet them as well as give them tips that'll give them the upper hand in their next "duel". Her interactions with other characters at the park are generally friendly. When she encounters Darrow, she sticks by him and lets him show her off, but she also likes to show that she is a very independent woman. She doesn't encounter Eo very often because she doesn't have any reason to spend her time by her attraction, but when they do meet, it's not much of an interaction. They don't know each other, so she doesn't really pay her any attention.

Brochure

colour bases

h	red	black	green
o	pink	brown	blue
u	orange	dark red	silver
s	purple	white	gold
e	grey	yellow s

THE INSTITUTION

- a : mines
- b : rollercoaster
- c : joust show
- d : Eo's garden (food court)
- e : lazer tag
- f : flying proctors / fight show
- g : final character parade

Use this Brochure/Map to find the best attractions with ease!

Here at the institution you can watch shows like the joust or ride mine rollercoasters!
Fun for the whole family!

Thank you!

The Institute

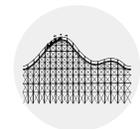

By Kiara, Emma, Tanesha, Valeria and Adam.

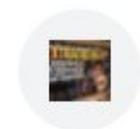

Red Rising

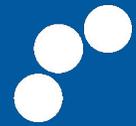

By Pierce Brown

Theme park project

English 11

Shutting down

