For this project, we read the book called The Book Thief and then as a group, we needed to create a powerpoint project and present it to the class.

The reason I chose the Personal and Social Competencies to evaluate myself on was because I thought that for this project, I really had to think about the societal aspects of the story.

In the story, it was during WW2, so there were many parts where society seemed unfair. For this project, I really had to think how much society has changed over the years and what I could do to help it.

There aren't that many things that I can do, but when I was evaluating myself, I found that there were a lot of aspects that I could change.

I also found a few ways that I could help not only myself, but also others, see more deeply and help around as well.
